Independent Auditors' Report

The Board of Governors
Philadelphia Bar Association
Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Philadelphia Bar Association, which comprise the statements of financial position as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

Management's Responsibility for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement whether due to fraud or error.

Accountants' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditors' judgment including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditors consider internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Philadelphia Bar Association as of December 31, 2016 and 2015, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States.

Notes to Financial Statements December 31, 2016 and 2015

(1) Nature of Organization

The Philadelphia Bar Association (the Association), founded in 1802, is America's oldest continuing chartered bar association. The Association's purpose is to strengthen and unify the legal profession, promote professional development and improve the justice system. The Association's primary source of income is derived from annual membership dues.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Accounting

The Association prepares its financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles promulgated in the United States of America (U.S. GAAP) for Not-for-Profit Organizations. The significant accounting and reporting policies used by the Association are described subsequently to enhance the usefulness and understandability of the financial statements.

Financial Statement of Presentation

The Association is required to report information regarding its financial position and activities according to three classes of net assets: unrestricted net assets, temporarily restricted net assets and permanently restricted net assets. The Association has only unrestricted net assets that consist of Association funds and Section funds.

Sections are specialty groups with the Association that focus on unique areas of law or business. The net assets that have been designated by the Board of Governors' represent resources available for use by the following Sections:

- Family Law Section
- Section on Taxation
- Business Law Section
- Criminal Justice Section
- Probate and Trust Section
- Real Property Section
- Public Interest Section
- Section on Workers' Compensation
- State Civil Litigation Section

Cash and Cash Equivalents

For purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Association considers all highly liquid debt instruments purchased with an initial maturity of three months or less to be cash equivalents.

(2) Summary of Significant Accounting Policies, Continued

Investments

Investments are recorded at fair value in the statements of financial position. Changes in fair value, realized gains and losses, interest and dividends earned on investments are recognized in the statements of activities.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Items with a cost of over $1,000 are capitalized. Depreciation is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related asset. Useful lives range from three to five years for website design, furniture and equipment. Expenditures for normal maintenance and repairs are expensed as incurred.

Impairment of Collection Items

The Association's collection items consisted of several paintings, a portrait collection and some historical documents. During 2015, the Association sold one painting for $652,500, net of fees, and determined that the fair value of the remaining collection was impaired. For the year ended December 31, 2015, an impairment loss of $1,031,000 on the collection was reported in the accompanying statements of activities.

Membership Dues

Membership dues are recognized as revenue in the applicable membership period. Dues received in advance are recorded as deferred income. Dues are renewed annually based on a calendar year membership period.

Donated Services

Many individuals volunteer their time and perform a variety of tasks that assist the Association with events and programs. The value of this contributed time is not reflected in these financial statements because the criteria for recognition has not been satisfied.

Income Taxes

The Association is exempt from federal and state income taxes under Section 501(c)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code and, therefore, no provision for income taxes is included in the accompanying financial statements.

Income Taxes, Continued

The Association files Federal Form 990. With few exceptions, the Association is no longer subject to U.S. federal or state and local income tax examinations by tax authorities for the years before 2013. It is difficult to predict the final timing and resolution of any particular uncertain tax position. Management regularly evaluates its tax positions with regard to issues affecting its exempt status; the Association does not currently anticipate significant changes in its uncertain tax position over the next 12 months.

Concentration of Risk

Financial instruments that potentially subject the Association to a concentration of credit risk consist principally of cash and cash equivalents, investments and accounts receivable. The Association places its cash and temporary cash investments with financial institutions and, at times, such cash balances may be in excess of the FDIC insurance limits. The Association has not experienced any losses from maintaining cash accounts which are not insured or are in excess of federally insured limits.

The Association uses an external investment advisory firm which, in conjunction with the Finance Committee, is responsible for the prudent management of the Association's investment portfolio. Through the use of a globally diversified investment strategy, the primary investment objectives of the Association are 1) to grow the assets of the investment portfolio at a rate that is greater than the rate of inflation and 2) to provide cash flow on occasion and at the discretion of the Association to supplement the general fund. With the approval of the Board of Trustees, the Association may also draw principal from this account from time to time in order to maintain operations and meet financial commitments of the Association.

The Association invests in various investments securities which are exposed to various risks, such as interest rate, credit, and overall market volatility. Due to the level of risk associated with certain investment securities, it is at least reasonably possible that changes in the values of investment securities will occur in the near term and those changes could materially affect the amount reported on the statements of financial position.

Accounts receivable are stated at the amount the Association expects to collect. Management reviews substantially all older receivable balances and determines which of those, in whole or in part, are uncollectible. Management believes it is not exposed to significant credit risk and considers accounts receivable to be fully collectable at December 31, 2016 and 2015; accordingly, no allowances for uncollectability are deemed necessary.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Subsequent Events

The Association has evaluated subsequent events through April 3, 2017, the date the financial statements were available to be issued.

(3) Fair Value Measurements

Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 820, Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures, provides the framework for measuring fair value. That framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under FASB ASC 820 are described as follows:

- Level 1: Quoted market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Observable market based inputs or unobservable inputs that are corroborated by market data.
- Level 3: Unobservable inputs that are not corroborated by market data.

The amount represents the estimated rental value of the portion of office space contributed to the Association by the City based on a fair value of $23 per square foot and adjusted by the amount the Association paid to the City as noted above.

The contributed facilities and related facility expense is recognized in the accompanying statements of activities.
